Entrex finalizes public company merger for first sector fund

Boca Raton, Fl. September 1, 2020: The Entrex Capital Market (OTC: UNSS) (<https://Entrex.Market>) is pleased to announce it has executed final documentation for the merger of its first sector focused Business Development Fund with OTC: ADOB. Stephen H. Watkins, CEO of Entrex, was appointed CEO of ADOB to execute on the vision and mission of the public sector fund.

“This is an exciting milestone as the merger with ADOB represents the first of many funds we envision. Each fund is expected to develop a publicly traded diversified basket of companies for each of Entrex’s sector markets. What is important for UNSS shareholders are the multiple revenue streams which will roll-up to UNSS which owns a non-dilutable 51% of each market” said Stephen H. Watkins.

“We anticipate ADOB, once everything is filed and finalized with the SEC, will let broker dealers benefit two ways. First; brokers who focus on specific sectors, whether geographic or industrial, can provide their investors a diversified basket of private company investments in a single public, liquid, vehicle. And second; brokers sector oriented private clients, which meet the fund’s investment parameters, will have known access to capital and associated placement fees – a win-win for the brokers” continued Watkins.

“Watkins continues to impress as he executes on the vision and mission of Entrex. We are now getting to where the rubber hits the road. We anticipate expanding the team as capital starts coming in from the various UNSS PIPEs which soon allow us to start reaping the rewards” said Paul Landrew Chairman of UNSS.
